CONTEST AND PRIZES AT THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

PRIZE PAPERS WRITTEN ON RECENT ART EXHIBIT AT THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS—MEDALS FOR COMING HONORS.

Friday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock the pupils of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades of School No. 1 were asked to write a short theme on the following subject: "The Picture I Liked Best in the Turner Art Exhibit." A prize was offered to the pupil who should write the best theme. The papers were numbered and handed in to a committee who awarded the prize—Van Dyke's "How to Judge of a Picture"—to Katherine Bishop of grade 7, section B. The paper written by Elizabeth Pritchard of grade 7 A. was considered a close second. Third place was given to Cora Scarritt of grade 7 A.

The papers written by the following pupils were considered worthy of honorable mention:

MRS. MARY GREGOVICH

Of Phillipsburg, Montana, Tells How She Was Cured of Dandruff. Mrs. Mary Gregovich, of Phillipsburg, Mont., under date of Nov. 26, 1899, writes: "I had typhoid fever this summer, consequently was losing my hair terribly, and my head in places was perfectly bald. Newbro's Herpicide had just come into use in Phillipsburg, and the doctor strongly recommended it to me. After 3 or 4 applications my hair stopped falling out, and is coming in again quite thick. I used to be troubled greatly with dandruff, of which I am quite cured." Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. For sale by W. A. D'Alemberte, druggist and apothecary, 121 S. Palafox. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich.

PRIZE WINNERS.

The Picture I Liked Best—Lost.
By Katherine Bishop.

The sheep are lost on the mountain side in a terrible snow storm. All are gathered around the large black sheep—who is always considered the most mischievous and wicked of the flock. But it is all gone now and he is waiting with the rest, and the little ones are nearly frozen and will not live much longer if the storm keeps up. The shepherd is a little way up the mountain side kneeling at a cross—one which the people of that country put up for people lost on the mountains. The wind is very strong, and with the blinding snow in his face he can hardly hold on with his frozen hands, but he has faith, and hopes help will soon come. And I hope so too.

SECOND BEST.

The Picture I Liked Best in the Turner Exhibit, by Elizabeth Pritchard.

The picture I liked best in the Turner exhibit was Langsner's picture, the "Sanctuary." The picture shows where the dogs have run a deer into the water and after the deer gets into the water he faces and defies the dogs. The ducks in the picture are frightened by the dogs and rise in a V shaped flock from the marshes, their leader at the point of the V. The water in the lake does not look to be very deep but it is surrounded on all sides by high rocks. The deer is a beautiful looking animal with sleek black sides and large branching horns. His eyes flash as he stands and faces the dogs. The ducks in the picture look to be maddened and black, and as they rise they utter their call and fly to the east.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MEDALS AND CONTESTS THIS YEAR.

Foremost among the influences which work for the betterment of the intellectual standard of the schools are medals given for excellence in some branch of study.

The improvement in the Pensacola schools the past twenty years, is attributable in a large degree to medals that have been given by those citizens who have recognized that the ambition of the pupil has to be aroused by wholesome competition for reward or merit.

The gold medal given by the late Colonel Chipley may be regarded as the pioneer among prizes given to the public schools. Until his death, Colonel Chipley presented this medal each year to that pupil of all the public schools in the city, who attained the highest general average for the scholastic year.

This medal, since it required not only proficiency in scholarship above every other scholarship in the city, but also exacted high percentages for conduct and attendance, was perhaps the most difficult and therefore the most praiseworthy medal to win, that has ever been given in the Pensacola public schools.

The example of Colonel Chipley has been followed in later years by other public spirited citizens, until now there are given at the commencement exercises of the senior class five gold medals four of which are competed for exclusively by the members of the high school.

First in point of time are the medals given by Hon. W. A. Blount for excellence in composition, and by Hon. C. B. Parkhill for excellence in elocution. These two medals given by two gentlemen so long and so actively identified with the intellectual growth of the city, were three years ago supplemented by the composition medal offered by the Sons of the American Revolution for the best essay on some specified subject relating to the Revolutionary War.

This contest is held under the direct supervision of Dr. P. H. Whaley, whose literary and classical accomplishments make him especially fitted for the position.

Last year Mr. P. K. Yonge resumed the donation of his medal. This medal is given for excellence in history and requires for its attainment more effort than any prize given to the public schools. Mr. Yonge deserves the highest praise for the justice of the admirable plan on which he gives his medal.

The fifth of the medals is the Helen M. Fisher Memorial Medal, instituted by Mr. Wm. Fisher and continued since his death by Mrs. Fisher. It is given to the pupil of Section A of the 5th grade, who secures the highest general average for the year.

VAUGHN GIVES A $5,000 BOND

JUDGE BELLINGER HOLDS HIM UPON THE CHARGE OF MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE.

Judge Henry Bellinger, of the county court, yesterday announced his decision in the murder case of John B. Vaughn, who was arrested upon the charge of murder in the first degree a week ago. The decision, which was rendered early in the forenoon, was to the effect that Mr. Vaughn was technically guilty of murder in the second degree, and bond for his appearance at the next term of the court was placed at $5,000.

Mr. Vaughn was represented in the court by his attorney, C. Moreno Jones, and the latter was satisfied, apparently, at the result of the decision. It will be remembered that last Sunday Mr. Vaughn and a man named Nichols engaged in a fight at Century. Vaughn fired at Nichols, and the bullet going wild, killed a young man by the name of Knowles.

Mr. Vaughn was arrested and held by the coroner's jury upon the charge of murder in the first degree, and consequently could secure no bond.

Judge Bellinger yesterday placed the bond in the sum of $5,000, which was given in a short time by the defendant.
